 RE: Advising Guidelines for Bachelor of Science in Psychology Majors

The following guidelines are offered to assist students in getting the necessary number of upper level courses and semester hours from Tarleton State University for the Bachelor of Science degree with a major in Psychology. The degree requires 120 semester hours.

- At least 48 semester hours for the degree must be earned from Tarleton and 45 of these hours must come from upper level courses
- At least 24 semester hours in Psychology (12 in advanced courses) are required for the major
- A minor is not required and may not be possible for some students; if a minor is declared the courses will take the place of electives (a minor is 18 hours; at least 6 hours must be advanced)
- Advanced courses are 300 & 400 numbered courses at Tarleton; 1000 & 2000 numbered courses at Tarrant County College (or 100 & 200 at Tarleton) cannot count or substitute for advanced courses
- At least 60 semester hours must be earned from Tarleton for a student to be eligible to graduate with honors

In addition to the core curriculum requirements, the requirements for the Psychology major include:
