

David Drueckhammer is a Professor in the Department of Agricultural and Consumer Sciences and Associate Dean for the College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences. His research interest are in the areas of instructional program evaluation and program assessment. He has focused on how instructional programs meet the needs of business and industry and how instruction can be more hands on and connected to real world applications.