

5 REASONS TO INTERN AT STUDENT COUNSELING SERVICES

Working directly with students

Student Counseling Services allows our interns to work directly with students in face to face sessions, and then process the session with their supervisor.

Involved supervisors

Student Counseling Service has an open door policy. This means if an intern needs anything someone is available to help them. Our supervisors are available and genuinely want you to succeed in your career.

Working with a variety of clients

Student Counseling Services allows interns to see clients individually, in couples or groups. SCS sees client with concerns of anything from stressed about classes, to clients in crisis.

Time Management Skills

Student Counseling Services has a never ending revolving door for our students. We teach our interns how to be prepared for anything and use your time effectively so you are always prepared for the next client.

Working with good humans

Student Counseling Services staff all have a wide variety of specialty areas. They are all open and willing to help an intern learn and grow their knowledge. As an intern at SCS you will get to see a wide variety of counselors and expand your knowledge by talking with them.

To apply please fill out the application on our Academic Training Lab Page and email it to studentcounselingservices@tarleton.edu