Set up ORCiD

Register for an account.
1. Visit https://orcid.org/.
2. Click Register Now!
3. Fill out Registration information.
4. Select visibility settings. “Everyone” is the recommended setting because others can view your ORCiD and the work that is attached to your ORCiD number.

5. An email will be sent to verify your account.
Complete profile.

1. Enter Employment information.
2. Add Education, invited positions, distinctions, and membership. This information is optional, but the more information you add the easier it is to properly identify you and showcase your scholarship.
3. Add works to profile. This step is also optional, but it helps establish your identity and link future works back to you.

4. Add works using a PubMedID, ArXivID, article DOI, or BibTeX.
5. Add works through Search & Link”.

6. Use the various links to find and begin linking your work.

7. Recommended links to begin with:
   a. MLA International Bibliography (Humanities and Arts)
   b. ResearcherID from Web of Science (STEM, social sciences, humanities)
   c. Scopus- Elsevier (Life, physical, health, and social sciences)
   d. Europe PubMed Central (Life and health sciences)
   e. CrossRef Metadata (Multiple disciplines)
8. By linking you numerous identifiers to ORCiD, your profile will continue to accumulate your work. For example, if you set up your ORCiD now and in a year publish an article found in Scopus, ORCiD will be able to identify that work and link it back to you.

9. Add other profile information such as “Also known as” if you have published under other names, or “Websites” if you have a professional webpage.

Enter once. Reuse often.

1. Add your ORCiD whenever possible.
   a. Grant applications
   b. Article submissions
   c. Pivot
   d. Wikipedia
   e. ResearchGate
   f. Mendeley
   g. Websites
   h. Social Media – Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn

2. By adding your ORCiD to these things, your work will be linked back to your ORCiD profile.
